

In some respects Mr. Roux's petition highlights the abilities needed to navigate the Extra CW subbands. 15 wpm proficiency in these parts is almost necessary. Chopping the license scale down to two classes and a universal written exam would greatly cut VE workload and confusion, as well as eliminating the need for a club to provide multiple study courses for multiple written tests. non-CW operators will not feel cheated since they can operate all other modes without restriction and learn CW if desired. New CW ops need encouragement to operate tricky conditions.

In all, the best of the new proposals set forth.
Of the new proposals, I consider this one best suited to how HF is used.
